

Clustered Bushmint

Hyptis alata

This species grows shrub-like and produces flower heads with small white flowers. This plant requires moist soils and is often found in sandy areas. Plants are said to have a musky, mint odor.

- Perennial
- Grows 4 feet
- Found in low flatwoods, prairies, pond margins

Jan	Feb	Mar	Apr	May	June	July	Aug	Sept	Oct	Nov	Dec
-----	-----	-----	-----	-----	------	------	-----	------	-----	-----	-----

Flowering Time